

2nd international Conference on Physics & Biological Systems 2014
June 24-27 2014, Gif-sur-Yvette, France

GARE DU NORD
(Eurostar, Thalys...)

PARIS

ROISSY
Charles-de-Gaulle
airport

Two RER stations for the Charles de Gaulle (CDG) Airport:

- From CDG Terminal 1, (the round terminal) take the airport shuttle called CDGval to the RER station Aéroport Charles de Gaulle 1 near Terminal 3
- From CDG Terminal 2, walk to the RER station Aéroport Charles de Gaulle 2 - TGV
- From CDG Terminal 3, walk to the RER station Aéroport Charles de Gaulle 1 (i.e., the same station as for Terminal 1)

Caution: make sure you get on a train that goes to Saint-Rémy-lès-Chevreuse, because the others (to Massy-Palaiseau or Robinson) do not stop in Gif-sur-Yvette. This information is indicated on screens or panels, on the platforms.

From Paris by local transport
The easiest way to reach the CNRS Campus from Paris is to take the RER B line from any RER B station in the center of Paris (e.g. Luxembourg) and then get off at the "Gif-sur-Yvette" station.
This trip takes about 45 minutes from the center of Paris. Add about 15 minutes to walk from the station to the CNRS Campus.

Saint-Rémy-lès-Chevreuse

Antony

ORLY
airport

Massy TGV

GIF-SUR-YVETTE

From Orly Airport:
Take the Orlyval (Automatic rail link connecting to RER line B) to the Antony station and then transfer to the RER B going to Saint-Rémy-lès-Chevreuse and get off at Gif-sur-Yvette.
